Displays Are Uniformly Good.

In the agricultural, floricultural and horticultural building are so many dis-plays of different fruits and vegetables that it takes an expert to give them all their proper names. And they are all so tastefully arranged that the necessity for screens in front of them becomes apparent at once. If it were not for the screens visitors would be unable to resist the temptation to do some quiet

The exhibits of livestock, that general head including borses, cattle, sheep. ticular individuals. pigs and chickens, are in the southwest section of the grounds. They are described in detail elsewhere, but it may properly be said here that all experts are agreed on the point that nothing quite so excellent has ever been seen at a bearing on the state and national cambattate fair in Utah. The horses and cattle are the state fair in Utah. The horses and cattle are the state fair in Utah. The sheep's wool is the silkiest and the chickens are the friskiest.

The judges in all the departments realize that they have some hard work head of them. Many of them began their work yesterday. The rest will make beginning today. All will proceed slowly, being guided in each contest solely to the merit of the exhibit, and the scoring will be done in the strictest possible panner. It is probable that the first of the awards will be given out some time today. The others will come as rapidly as decisions can be reached.

That's about all, except the rain. It came in little splashes throughout the afternoon and evening, and it, was cold, but it failed to check the enthusiasm. People just kept moving, even if they did get a little moist on the outside—some of them were moist on the inside, as well—until they saw everything there was to see. The crowd was orderly and good-natured. three The Brother's Murdered Their Uncle,

The routine of the prison was carried on with a break early today in contrast with the former custom of locking the men in their cells upon the day of an execution.

Dr. Ransom, the prison physician, visited the condemned men in their cells this morning and closely noted their physical condition. In the meany wille Warden Deyo had decided upon the order in which the men went to the chair, as follows:

First, Willis, the oldest and most impressionable of the three: second, Frederick, the youngest, who has seemed to be the most hardened; third, Burton, the second ir point of age.

At 3:30 it was reported by the warden that the men were in the best possible condition and well nerved for their ordeal.

One at a Time.

Willis Van Wormer entered the death chamber at 11:34:30, the current was turned on and he was declared dead at 11:43:30.

Burton entered the death chamber at 11:47, the current was turned on and he was declared dead at 11:43:30. The entire proceedings from the fact of the first man from his cell to the doctors' declaration of the death of a total of seventy-three tae list of murderers who have died in the electric days and sentenced to the broken in health and almost within his hearing.

The court fixed upon the week of July 6 for the carrying out of the death sentence, but the Van Wormer have been twice respited by Governor Odell Harvey Bruce, their fellow in the crime, for which they died today, was tried alone and sentenced to imprisonment for eighteen years.

Mrs. Hallenbeck soon followed her husband to the grave—as also did the aged mother of the murdered man. A brother, George A. Hallenbeck, survives, but he is broken in health and nervous by the awful tragedy enacted to a total of seventy-three tae list of murderers who have died in the electric days and the case went over until the week ending May 30, 1992. Their appeals to the court of appeals acted as a stay and the case went over until the present year.
